Who We Are

We are an organization where the members avidly support a mission. A community where you can meet new people and socialize, learn about current diversity topics in a safe environment, and most importantly, make an impact for women and girls in our local community through scholarships, as well as state and nationally through the organization.

Mission

AAUW advances equity for women and girls through advocacy, education, philanthropy, and research.

Why Your Help Matters

By joining AAUW, you belong to a community that breaks through educational and economic barriers so that all women have a fair chance.

Ways to Get Involved

Book group: meets monthly. A member leads the discussion on a book, usually something recently published.

Diversity group: meets monthly and provides a safe place to discuss current topics associated with diversity. Sometimes there will be a short article, video, or exercise to review in advance to reflect on the day's topic.

Epicureans: gather monthly at a local restaurant to enjoy dining together and engaging in conversations that lead to connections and friendships.

Monthly programs throughout the year. Past educational programs included bird watching, VWCC Arboretum tour, cybersecurity, wild edible plants, histories of Appalachian women, and more.
